Projects

Whisper Effect

We apply bone conduction to change the way of listening and embed this innovative concept into a folktale - Don't tell secret to treehole. To deliver an intuitive experience, we also deliberate the relationship between materials, metaphors, and user behaviors.

Thinking of You

It is a digital photo frame which enhances family connections for reducing social isolation amongst aging people by just one touch. When a user touches someone's photo on the screen, s/he will get a message - "I am thinking of you".

In the Know

This project explores the power of the crowd to identify and diminish news bias. They discuss an issue by reading and criticizing articles from various sources in a public domain anonymously. Also, we probe using Damaku in a text context.

Live (ongoing)

A legendary city comprises of individuals' life stories. Live is a platform that you share your city story as a short trip, as well as take others' stories to meet a "new" city you are living in.
